FUNDED RESEARCH PROJECTS

Current Research Support

2016- 2017	TAMU PESCA Grant The trend of digital divide and health disparities in US: A longitudinal study of eHealth behavior and policy in the past decade ($25,000) We will analyze several large national survey datasets to investigate the trends of eHealth/mHealth behaviors, examine the relationship of digital divide and health disparities, and to make recommendation of eHealth policy. My role: PI
2016-	U1CRH30040 (HRSA/NIH)

2020 Southwest Rural Health Research Center ($2,800,000)
One of seven cooperative research centers in the country to research critical rural health issues. PI: Jane Bolin
Digital divide and rural-urban health disparities (2016-2017)
I lead the project to examine the eHealth/mHealth behavior of rural population, the relationship between digital divide and rural-urban health disparities, and how to scale up evidence-based mHealth programs in rural area.
My role: Sub-PI

2016-2020 China National Science Foundation
mHealth intervention for people living with HIV/AIDS. PI: Yan Guo (Sun Yet-sen University)
Our international team will develop and evaluate a culturally appropriate and personalized intervention program based on smart phones and social media for HIV medication adherence and side effect management. This is the first mHealth intervention protocol for people living with HIV/AIDS in China.
My role: Co-PI

Pending Research Support

2016-2018 Center of Translational Environmental Health Research (NIEHS-funded P30 center)
Sepan más. Actúen: Breast Cancer Risk Communication for Underserved Hispanic Women ($40,000)
We will develop and pilot test a culturally appropriate, personalized, mobile-based communication program to raise awareness of breast cancer environmental risks among underserved Hispanic women in South Texas
My role: PI

2017-2020 PCORI (Patient Center Outcome Research Institute)
iCanFit: A primary care-based, multi-level, and mobile-enabled physical activity promotion program for overweight older adults in rural areas ($1,500,000)
We will scale-up the iCanFit physical activity intervention program to overweight older adults in a primary care setting
My role: PI

Selected Completed Research Support

2015-2016 TAMU-SPH Faculty REDI Grant
Health-related mobile use among patients living with HIV and Diabetes: A comparative Research ($25,000)
We conducted ethnographic interviews with patients with two groups of chronic patients (diabetes and HIV) to examine their current mobile use behaviors and gain in-depth understanding on facilitators and barriers to mobile use for chronic disease self-management.
My role: PI

2014-2016 Texas A&M Engineering Strategic Seed Grant
Center for Healthy Active Living ($100,000)

We built a university-wide multidisciplinary research center on mobile health focused on healthy living with focuses on interactive apps, health activity recognition and intervention, situational awareness and navigation, and diagnosing diseases through sketching. PI: Tracy Hammond
My role: Co-I

2009-
2014

CDC Cancer Research Network

Central Texas Cancer Prevention Center Research Network ($1,600,000)

PI: Marcia Ory

We built a cancer prevention and control program in central Texas to accelerate translational research and collaboration between universities and communities. I was responsible for research methodology and mobile tool development.

My role: Co-I

2011-
2013

Baylor Scott & White Healthcare

Designing and testing mobile application for older cancer survivors to use community resources ($50,000)

We use user-centered approach and mixed methods to develop a mobile-enabled web application iCanFit® for cancer survivors.

My role: PI

2012-
2013

National Library of Medicine South Central Regional Network

Disseminating iCanFit®: a mobile application to promote physical activity and access to health information for seniors in rural central Texas ($10,000)

We applied community-based participatory research (CBPR) to reach out older adults for their use of mobile application to promote healthy living.

My Role: PI

2010-
2011

Mexican American Latino Research Center

Acculturation and sexual health in new immigrants of Latinos in Brazos Valley

PI: Nancy Plankey Videla

We used ethnographic methods to study the interaction of acculturation and sexual risks among new Latino immigrants in central Texas, particularly how the new social environment and their new identities affects their sexual behaviors.

My role: Co-PI

2011

Texas A&M Prevention Research Center Health Disparities Seed Grant

Bridging the digital divide and health literacy: develop an Internet- and community-based intervention

This project explored digital divide and how it accelerated health disparities.

My role: PI

2008-
2013

R01AA018090-01 (NIAAA)

Venue-based HIV and alcohol use risk reduction among female sex workers in China ($2,629,000)

PI: Xiaoming Li (Wayne State University)

We developed and evaluated a venue-based multi-level behavioral intervention to reduce HIV risks and alcohol abuse among female sex workers in China. My subcontract was focused on how intimate partner violence affects women's mental health, substance abuse and sexual behaviors. I also led research synthesis and manuscript development.

My role: Subcontract PI

- 2007-
2012 R01NR010498-03 (NINR)
Culture, behavioral change and HIV-risk reduction among young migrants ($1,600,000) PI: Xiaoming Li (Wayne State University)
We developed and evaluated a theory-based multi-level behavioral intervention to reduce HIV risks in young migrant workers in China. My role was to use mixed-methods to develop culturally appropriate intervention protocol.
My role: Subcontract PI
- 2008-
2009 TAMHSC-Research Development Fund
Development of gatekeeper intervention program for high risk women
This project used qualitative and quantitative methods to develop an intervention program targeting gatekeepers to prevent HIV/STI among female sex workers.
My role: PI
- 2009-
2010 George Bush Foundation Research Fund
Women & HIV in China—Research round-table in 4th China-US relations conference in Beijing($100,000).
We organized a symposium on women and HIV in China; after the symposium, and published a special issue on the same topic on AIDS Care.
My role: PI
- 2005-
2010 R01MH076488-01 (NIMH)
228BBereavement and psychosocial needs of AIDS orphans: A longitudinal assessment ($1,300,000) PI: Xiaoming Li (Wayne State University)
We conducted longitudinal assessments on mental health, living environment and care arrangement of children orphaned by AIDS and their caregivers. My subcontract is focused on cultural validation of psychosocial instruments and the relationship between care arrangement and psychosocial wellbeing.
My role: Subcontract PI
- 2006-
2007 JHU Global Field Experience Fund
HIV Risks and Psychosocial wellbeing of Female Sex Workers in China
This project of part of my doctoral thesis, it examined the interaction of mental health and HIV risks among female sex workers.
My role: PI
- 2002-
2007 R01MH066810-05 (NIMH)
Network HIV Prevention Intervention for Drug Users ($2,000,000)
PI: Car Latkin
We applied social network theories to develop and evaluate a behavioral intervention to reduce HIV risks among drug users in Baltimore. I was responsible for using ethnographic method for program evaluation.
My role: Research associate
- 2002-
2007 R01DA016555-01 (NIDA)
A Network & Dyad HIV Prevention Intervention for IDUs ($2,500,000)
We used social network and social influence theories to develop and evaluate a behavioral intervention to reduce drug abuse and HIV risks among drug users. My role was to develop and test ethnographic process evaluation.
My role: Research associate
